

UMUCU News Update 3.10.09: Pay and Grading Negotiations

Over the summer we have had further meetings with the University and the other trade unions mediated by ACAS. Unfortunately the University has failed to compromise on the HERA scores for the grade boundaries and has maintained the position it first put forward a year ago. However, there are many other components to the final agreement, including procedures for appeals and regrading, the treatment of red-circled staff and various terms and conditions. We are making steady progress on these other elements and hope to have a complete package to put to UCU members in a ballot within the next couple of months. More information will be provided at the next General Meeting.
